

Central Mass Safety Council Program
Emergency Response OSHA required training
Updated

Recent events across the country as well as those closer to home underscore the importance of establishing a workable emergency response plan. OSHA requires (per 1910.138) employers to both adopt a written plan and that all their employees receive emergency response training at least upon hire.

What you'll learn:

During this program you will learn all the required, as well as the most relevant and current topics, in OSHA's regulation 1910.1030 (Blood borne Pathogens). These include:

- Identifying hazards
- Prevention strategies
- Establishing a Written Plan
- Assembling an Emergency Assistance Team
- Using drills effectively

Per Person- Members: $112 each (includes $13 for materials) Nonmembers: $141 each (includes $16 for materials)

When: Thursday, July 2nd *Special Combo Series with Bloodborne Pathogens**

Where: Central Mass Safety Council, 186 W. Boylston St, West Boylston, MA 01583

Time: 8:30 AM - 12:00PM

Register by fax at: 508-835-2869. To register by phone or for more information call: 978-875-1942 or 508-835-2333 X 21

Name _____ Organization _____

Street Address _____ City _____

Phone _____ Fax _____ email _____

The amount of your investment is $ _____

Method of Payment VISA Mastercard Card # _____ Ex Date _____

Name on Card (Please Print) _____ Signature _____

Company check (Must be received prior to the program) If mailed, send to the Safety Council at address above

Note: Payment made by the above two methods guarantees you receive your class certification by the end of your program (provided you submit a roster at least two business days prior to the program date) Alternately you'll receive your certification within 30 days.

Note: A 10% fee will be added for paying at the door. Cancellation Policy: 7 or more business days from class: 100% refund; 4-6 business days from class: 50% refund; Less than 3 business days from class: No refund.

Your Instructor: Rich Bianchi is president of Bianchi Consulting, an OSHA Authorized Instructor and consultant to national corporations such as Gillette, Lafarge, Polaroid, and Staples; as well many small to medium sized companies in the Northeast.